Introduction to Scotch

We start our journey deep in the Scottish Highlands at the fabled Clynelish Distillery with their eponymous 14yr. We then head South to Speyside for the luscious sherry bomb that is Balvenie 15yr. Finally, no introduction to Scotch could ever be complete without a trip west to Islay; Caol Ila 12yr is an incredible example of light yet complex smoke

Sherry Bombs

Sherry, sherry, sherry... Who doesn't love a big sherry bomb? Sherry casks have been used in whisky maturation for longer than we care to remember, and they remain ever so popular and more sought after today than ever before. Why? Because of the simply sublime qualities these casks impart on the maturing whisky. We've lined up three of our favourite sherry cask matured whiskies for you to savour.

First up we have Hazelburn 13yr Oloroso Cask from the legendary Springbank distillery. To follow we proudly present, the Beast of Dufftown, none other than the Mortlach 16yr. Last but not least, the undisputed king of sherry bombs, Glendronach with their 18yr

My peat is bigger than yours

Smoke heads rejoice! We've put together a truly mighty hat-trick of whiskies to blow your taste buds to bits! Kilchoman Machir Bay breaks us in gently with fresh, vibrant and maritime smoke. Moving on to Bowmore 18yr for some classic "sweet & peat" action. A masterful balance of ripe fruit, dark chocolate and Islay smoke. Finally, we draw this peat project to a close with a ferocious beast, the behemoth that is Laphroaig Lore

Japanese

We start our Japanese journey at the Hakushu distillery, in the middle of the luscious, green and leafy forest surrounding the Akaishi Mountains in central Honshū. The picturesque surroundings of the distillery are truly reflected in the liquid itself, as this 12yr boasts a fresh and foresty flavour profile. We then journey onwards to the cradle of Japanese whisky. The place where it all began back in 1923, the Yamazaki distillery, as we sample this incredible and very sought after 12yr. We then finish our journey by checking in with the younger generation of inventive distillers, with a modern and exceptionally smooth grain whisky from the Chita distillery

Old Enough to Drink

“I love a Scotch old enough to order its own Scotch!” Older isn’t necessarily always better, but when it comes to these beauties... First one a luxurious sherry cask from the Highlands, the Glengoyne 18yr. Then we head north to Orkney for a true legend, Highland Park 18yr. Total harmony in liquid form; notes of cherries, heather honey, finishing with elegant peat smoke. We then journey down south along the West Coast until we reach the Isle of Mull, where we finish big. Meaty, smoky, peppery and earthy. Like a roaring barbeque on an autumnal eve, this Ledaig 18yr from will keep you warm.

The Viking Trail

We start our Viking trail in the north of Sweden with High Coast Dálvve. Light, approachable and very tasty. We then travel down to the Danish country side and a really interesting and uniquely Danish expression of whisky from Thy. To complete our journey, we hop in our long boats and head over to the Orkney Islands, for a mighty and powerful Viking finish with the Highland Park 17yr Dark

Irish

The year is 1608, the location is County Antrim, Northern Ireland. Here the Bushmills distillery has been granted its license to distill. Making it the oldest licensed distillery in the world. It only seems fitting to start our Irish journey with this elegant and refined 10yr single malt. We then cross the Island heading all the way down to County Cork, on the South Coast. Here we move on to the uniquely Irish style of Pure Pot Still whiskey with the much-acclaimed Green Spot Château Léoville Barton. We then conclude our journey in the nation's capital, at the Teeling Distillery. These pioneering whiskey makers brought distilling back to Dublin, being the first new distillery in the city for 125 years. Safe to say the Irish Whiskey industry is alive and well, after sampling this absolutely stunning 24yr single malt

The All-American Dream

Michter's Distillery, tracing its history back to America's first ever whisky company, founded in 1753, is continuing to lead the way today producing some of the finest American whiskey. So, we thought Michter's exceptional 10yr bourbon would be a great way to start our American exploration. Next, we're traveling north to Vermont to meet the new, progressive generation of whisky makers. WhistlePig are protecting what makes rye whiskey great, while constantly pushing the boundaries of innovation to unlock the true potential of what rye whiskey can be. Judging by their work thus far, it is safe to say that the greatest era for rye is in front of us! We then head back to Kentucky to finish on a true masterpiece in all aspects of whiskey production. From the strains of yeast, to the exact blending of different mash bills, to the meticulous coopering of the finest oak barrels, the Four Roses Small Batch 2017 Vintage limited edition, is something truly special

Not for Light Weights

It's big, it's bold, it's relentless and it's cask strength. It's some of the best damn whisky our team has ever come across... And trust us when we say, we've been looking!

We start with the cult classic, the reigning heavy weight champion of whisky; Springbank, with their Local Barley 9yr. We then make our way to the rugged and windswept Isle of Skye, to the maritime home of the fabled Talisker Distillery to sample their much acclaimed, old-school style 8yo malt, from Diageo's 2018 Special Releases. We then catch the red-eye to Japan for the wild card, the Joker in the stack. We're of course talking about Ichirō Akuto, the man who took the whisky world by storm when he released Ichiro's Malt Card Series and then went on to found the Chichibu distillery in 2004. The Chichibu Peated is something special, a majestic beast quite unlike anything you've ever tried before.

Bucket List

The name says it all. For this journey we've hunted high and low to source three incredibly rare gems. All three are very exclusive, very limited releases and naturally, from some of the most legendary distilleries to have ever graced this earth. These bottles are highly coveted by collectors and enthusiasts alike. But we thought it would be a shame for them to collect dust in some vulture's nest. We'd rather share them and enjoy them with you!

We start out with the Springbank 17yr Danish Cask. An exclusive bottling of a single cask for the Danish market. Only 168 bottles made. Next, we have Bowmore 8yr Feis Ile 2008. Distilled in 1999 and rested for 8 years in Limousin oak in warehouse 5 and then bottled for the 2008 Islay Festival. A release of only 800 fabulous numbered bottles.

Lastly, we have the Lagavulin 19yr Feis Ile 2019. Aged for 19 years in special Sherry-treated American Oak Casks and bottled for the 2019 Islay Festival. Only 6000 bottles released.
